MEDIA RELEASE

JRA OFFICIALS SIGN THE SUPPLY CHAIN PLEDGE

The Johannesburg Roads Agency (JRA) Management as well as its Supply Chain Management team endorsed their commitment into high ethical and moral standards by appending their signatures on the Agency's Supply Chain Management Pledge recently developed. The Managing Director, Skhumbuzo Macozoma, when addressing the team said, "We subscribe to good governance because we want to ensure that the JRA applies and sound business practises and uphold high ethical standards".

By extension the JRA is calling on its suppliers to support the Supply Chain Management Pledge by upholding high ethical standards in procuring and providing services to the JRA. Our common goal should be to deliver services to the citizen of Johannesburg, meet customer expectations and do so in a manner that ensures responsible use of public funds and the achievement of value for money.

There will be growing intolerance for unethical business practices in the JRA, as a part of business turnaround. The JRA is committed to effective service delivery and the Supply Chain process in order to provide excellent services to communities in the City of Johannesburg.
